School Principal In South Pasadena, California, Runs Amuck With Gun

VICTIMS OF ATTACK ARE SCHOOL OFFICIALS

Motive For Outbreak Seen In Announcement Principal Was Not To Be Rehired

(International News Service)

SOUTH PASADENA, Cal. May 7.—Verlin Spencer, 37-year old South Pasadena junior high school principal who ran amuck and killed four school officials, wounded two women and then tried to end his own life because he was not to be rehired, was close to death himself today.

Hospital attaches held little hope that Spencer or the two women he shot would last but the day.

Extremely interested in pistols and target shooting, and rated as a crack shot, Spencer late yesterday made deadly use of his hobby. The massacre occurred at the administration offices of the South Pasadena school district, and at the South Pasadena-San Marino junior high school, a quarter of a mile away, and the victims were:

Brother Of John C. Speer One Of South Pasadena School Shooting Victims

It was learned here this afternoon that William Renwick Speer, the South Pasadena (Cal.) school executive slain yesterday with three other South Pasadena school officials by an enraged junior high school principal, (mentioned in an adjoining column) was a former resident of New Castle and at present has a younger brother, John C. Spear, residing here.

A telegram from a third brother, Robert Wendell Speer, living in Kansas City, brought first word of the tragedy to the New Castle brother, who lives at 601 Superior street, just before noon.

Wire From Victim's Daughter

The wire was sent after the victim's daughter, Jane, had telegraphed the news to Kansas City from South Pasadena.

Addressed to the brother, the telegram read:

"Wire from Jane in South Pasadena. Will fatally shot—I phoned her—She said he was one of three others fatally shot by high school principal—Floss greatly broken up—Think I will go out by air Wednesday a. m.—You notify Mae."

Buzard Wins By Two Votes

Ellwood City Man Democratic Nominee For Legislature In County

By the slim margin of two votes, Clyde M. Buzard of Ellwood City was declared the winner of the Democratic nomination for General Assembly from the second district today by the official return board sitting at the court house. Buzard's vote is listed as 1033 and Bernard W. N Chill of New Bedford as 1031.

On Wednesday, April 24 the unofficial returns as compiled by the News showed Chill to be leading by 11 votes with the second district of Mahoning township missing. This was later opened and counted by the official return board and Buzard carried this precinct by 8 votes.

This was so close that no definite decision could be announced until the official board counted all the returns. These were completed today and Mr. Buzard is returned the winner.

Tension Rises To New Heights In Mediterranean Are Over Possibility

BRITISH ADMIT DESTROYERS LOST

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, May 7.—Facing the most critical period of his career, Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain sought today to defend his government and war policies before a British parliament and nation smarting bitterly under the sting of the allied failure in Norway.

As the aging prime minister went before the House of Commons to support his conduct of the war, danger signals flashed from far-flung quarters of warring Europe.

Fear Italy May Enter

Tension rose to new heights in the Mediterranean as fears persisted that Italy may enter the conflict on Germany's side. In Norway, Nazi forces pushed northward in a dar-

Economic Duel On For Control Of Balkan Trade

Germany And England Waging Mighty Economic Battle In Balkans

(International News Service)

BUDAPEST, May 7.—A mighty economic duel between England and Germany for control of Balkan trade was waged today as the small Balkan powers sought feverishly to preserve their threatened neutrality, by force of arms if necessary.

The German efforts to gain an upper hand in the strategic Balkans were not confined to mere diplomatic negotiations, but included a propaganda campaign—a "war of nerves" as well.

German diplomatic circles in Belgrade expressed the fear that Britain plans occupation of Crete while General Maxime Weygand, allied commander of the near east army, marches through Greece and Bulgaria to occupy the Danube Delta and the Black Sea ports.

Nazi diplomatic quarters in Sofia said England has requested the right to move troops through Bulgaria in event of spreading of the war.

Primaries Being Held In Five States Today

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Millions of American voters in five states step behind the little white curtains in voting booths today to cast their ballots in a nation-wide test of third term sentiment.

President Roosevelt may well be assured of a third term nomination by nightfall if he scores an impressive victory in the California primary, which tops the list of balloting states. There are state-conducted primaries in South Dakota and Indiana, while the Democrats hold party primaries in Florida and Alabama.

Most Important Test

California offers the most important test of the day on the third term issue. There are two Roosevelt slates in the Democratic primary, with a third slate supporting Vice President John N. Garner and a fourth endorsing a "Ham and Eggs" program. If the president wins, as is expected, most political prophets will concede his renomination should he desire a third term.

The Republican primary in California meanwhile may give former President Hoover a vehicle through which to exercise his influence on the Philadelphia convention in June. There is one slate of uninstructed delegates in the G.O.P. primary and rumor in Washington proclaims it a Hoover slate. This may mean the former president's name will be presented to the G.O.P. conclave or it

Fire Damages Battery Plant

Defective Wiring Blamed For Blaze In South Mercer Street Building

Fire, of unknown origin, caused a loss of around $3,000 in the building at 135-139 South Mercer street, occupied by the Champion Battery company and the wood-working shop of Adam Goshinski, around 2 o'clock this morning.

While the blaze did not break through the roof, considerable damage was done to the interior of the building. When firemen arrived at the scene, dense clouds of heavy smoke were rolling from the structure, and five fire companies concentrated their efforts on knocking the blaze down, bringing it under control after an hour's hard fight.

The battery plant occupied the first floor of the structure, while the cabinet making shop was on the second floor.

While firemen were fighting this blaze, an alarm came in from Long avenue, where another blaze was in progress, and it was necessary to send part of the equipment to that blaze. The fire in the Mercer street building had been brought under control by that time however.

Grass Fires Burn Over Large Area

Farm Buildings Threatened By Blazes In Union Township Monday Afternoon

Two grass fires burned over an extensive area in Union township Monday, threatening farm buildings, and doing considerable damage to fences and trees.

One fire started east of the Covert road and burned up to the Youngstown road, while the other started along the B. and O. and P. and L. E. railroad tracks north of the Mahoning river, and burned towards the Covert road.

State Highway Patrolmen E. J. Nagosky, and W. P. Flucker; the Shenango township fire department, Assistant Fire Chief George Harper of the New Castle fire department, and volunteers went to the scene during the afternoon, when buildings were threatened.

Farm buildings on the A. E. Michael and E. P. Haggerty farms were saved from destruction. In the latter case, neareby farmers went to the scene with tractors and gang plows and plowed several furrows across the path of the fire, finally checking the blaze, although a stiff breeze caused the flames to jump the fire line several times.

Several hundred acres of ground was burned over in the two fires.

Pope May Set Forth Views On Peace

May Give Ideas On Peace June 2

No Peace Appeal By His Holiness Is Likely At Present Time

WASHINGTON COOL ON PEACE APPEAL

By PERCY WINNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ROME, May 7.—Pope Pius XII may set forth his personal views on the prospects of peace on June 2, it was learned today from circles close to the College of Cardinals.

On that date, Pius' name day, the pontiff may make known his ideas when he answers the cardinals' address of homage. Following precedent established in past years, it is in this answer that the popes review the political activities of the church.

Authoritative Vatican circles today discounted the possibility that His Holiness will make a peace appeal at present.

No "Peace Offensive" At Present

These quarters declared that His Holiness feels that the undertaking of a "peace offensive" at this moment, when the British government is in such a critical situation, might be likely to produce undesirable effects upon Catholics in the British empire.

Another factor which is said to have convinced the pontiff that the time is not propitious to make another appeal for peace is the coolness of Washington toward a united peace appeal, following the failure of American Ambassador to Italy William Phillips to obtain definitive assurances from Premier Mussolini as to Italy's intentions in the European war.

Persons close to His Holiness declare Pius fears that possible replacement of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain with a "tougher" war director will not only rule out any chances of peace but instead threaten an enlargement of the conflict.

BROTHER ONE OF PASADENA SCHOOL SHOOTING VICTIMS

phoned the Meadville home of his sister, Mrs. Ralph Orr, the "Mae" the brother mentioned in the telegram. "Floss" is the victim's wife, Mrs. Flosse Putney Speer.

Known here by many while he resided for a period of years, in New Castle, Mr. Speer's death comes as a shock to friends here and in Sharon. The brother here and the sister in Meadville and three cousins in Sharon are his closest survivors in this section.

Went West In 1914

Mr. Speer attended New Castle high school along with his brother, John. He took up the carpenter's trade while a young man here, and then in 1914 departed for Greeley, Colo.

He remained at Greeley, where he met and married his wife, for about seven or eight years, and then went on to South Pasadena, where he has been located for about 25 years.

Engaging in building work in that section, Mr. Speer became active in home building. He was in charge of construction on the imposing homes of several of Hollywood celebrities.

From the building work he turned to school business management and for the past five years had served as business manager for the South Pasadena schools. South Pasadena is a residential suburb of Pasadena.

Wrote Week Ago

While the local brother last saw his brother at a family reunion at the Greeley (Colo.) home of his father and step-mother during the summer of 1938, the two corresponded regularly by mail. The last letter came but a few weeks ago. He often wrote his brother how well he liked the school work.

The victim leaves just one child, a married daughter Jane.

Further telegraphic word was being awaited here. It was believed Mr. Speer would be buried in the west, but definite word was still to be learned.

While a resident of New Castle, Mr. Speer was active in the affairs of the Reformed Presbyterian church. In South Pasadena he was a member of the Methodist church.

One of his closest New Castle friends was Mrs. Fred L. Rentz, Edison avenue. The surviving cousins are Mrs. Clara Thomas, Mrs. Helen Thomas and Miss Mary Speer.

the South Pasadena-San Marino senior high school.

Will Speer, 51, business manager of the school district.

Verner V. Vanderlip, 38, manual arts instructor at the junior high school.

The wounded were:

Miss Dorothea Talbert, 30, secretary to Supt. Bush.

Mrs. Ruth B. Sturgeon, 45, art instructor at the junior high school.

That the schoolmaster may have planned his ghastly outbreak, which threw the campus into a frenzied fear, was indicated when a "Last will and testament" was found on the seat of his automobile and by a note left to his wife, Polly Spencer in which he reportedly said he had planned the slayings:

The will read:

"My last will and testament:

"I, Verlin Spencer, being of sound mind, according to the Rossloos clinic, this is my last will and testament, and leave all of my property to my wife. This will be null and void if she spends more than $200 for funeral expenses. Signed: Verlin Spencer."

Motive For Slayings

Spencer's motive for the slayings, according to police chief Frank Higgins, was this: he had been informed by Supt. Bush that, because of his behavior had been erratic following a nervous breakdown he suffered several months ago, his contract would not be renewed.

After a telephone conversation with Bush a few days ago, he was granted a hearing before the board of education yesterday.

Outwardly calm, but with a white and drawn face, Spencer entered Miss Talbert's office at 3 p. m. and was ushered into an office where sat Bush, Alman and Speer.

Miss Talbert said she heard a brief hum of conversation, then Spencer's voice raised in anger, then in rapid succession three shots.

Each man, it was discovered later, was shot through the heart by a .22 caliber automatic pistol. Each was slumped in his chair at the conference table.

"I'll Get You All"

Screaming "I'll get them all!" Spencer strode from the room, leveled his pistol at Miss Talbert and squeezed the trigger twice. Two shots entered the region of her heart.

Spencer then dashed out of the building and across the street where he got in his car and drove away without interference from terror-stricken students.

At the Junior high school campus he entered the class room of Mrs. Sturgeon, a veteran member of the faculty, who sat alone correcting papers. She rose to defend herself when she saw Spencer aiming his gun at her and tried to wrest it from him. He emptied his gun into her body during the brief struggle, and as Mrs. Sturgeon slumped to the floor, Spencer walked out of the room. He paused in the corridor long enough to re-load his weapon, and then went out onto the campus.

There he encountered Vanderlip and at gunpoint forced him to precede him to the basement storeroom, Vanderlip put up a terrific struggle, but Spencer pumped three bullets into the instructor's head. Then he dumped the victim's body into a basket of machine shop sweepings, and went back to the campus.

He passed vice principal F. J. Flynn as though in a daze and entered the school cafeteria, empty at that hour of the day. There, he placed the gun against his heart and once more pulled the trigger, but ironically, his aim, so accurate before, was less precise in self-destruction. The bullet missed his heart, and officers who had been called to the campus, found him lying insensible on the floor.

Deaths of the Day

Mrs. Mary Ann Hoyland.

Mrs. Mary Ann Hoyland, 89, passed away Monday at 5:15 p. m. at her home, 207 Fairmont avenue.

Mrs. Hoyland was born in Stratfordshire, England, on October 23, 1850, daughter of Charles and Mary Mayberry Mathews. She had resided in New Castle for the past 60 years, and was a member of the Maitland Memorial Primitive Methodist church. For 44 years, she was married to William Hoyland, who died in 1915. Until 1912, Mrs. Hoyland was in the grocery business at the corner of Terrace avenue and Moravia street.

Interment was in Greenwood cemetery.

KEY MAY GIVE CLUE IN CENTER COUNTY SLAYING

Gates and 17-year-old Rachel Taylor, Pennsylvania State College coed, who was found slain in a somewhat similar manner 12 miles from the scene of the Gates slaying five weeks ago.

Although police reiterated that the key furnished no definite link with the crime, District Attorney Musser W. Gettig described it as "the best clue yet."

Sheriff Ed. Miller revealed that officers have checked more than 200 cars in this area in an effort to find a tan automobile, whose driver was seen following Miss Gates' car shortly before she was slain.

Inquest Gives No Clue

The coroner's inquest failed to shed new light on the slaying, and the non-committal verdict held that the girl met death "by blows on the head from person or persons unknown."

Probability that the victim knew her assailant was suggested in the testimony offered by her grandmother, Mrs. Nancy Leathers, who said she was awakened early Sunday by two cars on the road outside her home. The girl's body was found less than 200 yards from the place.

State police investigators appeared satisfied that a man arrested at Babylon, N. Y., in an automobile answering to the description of the machine hunted in the Gates death had no connection with the case.

C.C.C. members from a nearby camp at Howard were pressed into the search for the tan sedan believed to have been used by the killer.

The two young women whom Fay Gates drove to their homes shortly before she was killed, Maude Rager, 17, and Ruth Robinson, 19, said they were positive that the slayer deliberately had lain in wait for his victim. They believed that a car was parked at a barrier along the route Miss Gates motored.

Services will be held at 1:30 P. M. tomorrow at Kennedy Methodist church, Mt. Eagle, and interment will be in the Curtin cemetery.

PRIMARIES HELD IN FIVE STATES TODAY

may mean only that Mr. Hoover proposes to have something to say about the identity of the next Republican presidential nominee.

Other Primaries

The Capitol sees the other primaries in this fashion:

1. South Dakota. The Democrats to elect a delegation pledged to Postmaster General James A. Farley; the Republicans to choose an uninstructed slate, probably dividing its vote among a number of G.O.P. hopefuls.

2. Indiana. Primary covers congressional offices, state offices and delegates to state conventions. Democrats to elect delegates pledged to Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt, who is not a candidate if the president seeks a third term. Republicans to elect delegates, pledged more to candidates for state offices than to presidential aspirants, with final decision of their state convention clouded in doubt. Twelve representatives seek renomination.

3. Florida. Democrats to elect a third-term delegation. Biggest fight is over candidacy of Senator Charles O. Andrews for renomination. He is opposed by Governor Fred T. Cone, Railroader Jerry Carter, Author Charles Francis Coe and Publisher Bernarr Mac Fadden. If no one wins a clear plurality, the top two will stage a run-off primary on May 28. Five representatives seek renomination.

4. Alabama. Democrats to elect a delegation pledged to Speaker William B. Bankhead, who in turn will not run if the president seeks a third term. Nine representatives seek renomination.

In California there are 44 delegates at stake in both Democratic and Republican primaries. In South Dakota, there are 8 delegates in each party. In Indiana, the number is 28 on both sides. Florida has 14 and Alabama 22 in the Democratic conclave. Thus by nightfall, the president can have 108 more delegates pledged to his renomination, even if Farley should hold out the eight in South Dakota.

LEGISLATIVE ACTION STARTED TO PROVIDE $73,369,000 FOR RELIEF

senate, and then adjourn until Monday. The Senate would be expected to complete legislative action next week.

The upper house, with nothing to do until the appropriation measures are passed by the house, prepared to meet today for brief session and then adjourn until Monday.

Expenditures

The administration's appropriation measures, all carrying out the governor's recommendations, provide for the following expenditures:

1. Relief——$71,850,000.
2. Aid to financially-handicapped schools—$1,000,000.
3. Expenses of the special session —$245,000.
4. Interest on tax anticipation notes—$239,000.
5. Additional appropriation to the joint state government commission —$35,000.

As explained by the governor, the $73,369,000 will come from the following three sources:

Securing Funds

1. A total of $61,000,000 transferred from special state funds, practically all of which will have to be repaid by June 30, 1941. The transfers: motor license fund $37,000,000: fire insurance tax fund $2,300,000: liquor license fund $7,250,000; liquid fuels tax fund $$11,000,000: state school fund $2,000,000.
2. Governmental savings totaling $4,419,000. The savings for this biennium vary from $25,000 in the department of banking to $1,600,000 in the department of property and supplies.
3. Excess revenue from existing taxes totaling $13,000,000. The excess revenu for the biennium: capital stock $3,500,000: corporate net income tax $2,000,000; insurance premiums tax and institutional reimbursements (welfare), $250,000 each: gasoline and cigarette taxes, $500,000 each; liquid fuels tax $2,500,000; and motor licenses and fees $3,500,000.

The loans from the special state funds do not constitute "diversion, stated the governor. "It is putting to work money which otherwise would not be employed," he said, contending that the $61,000,000 being transferred for relief would not be needed until June 1941, when it will be repaid.

TELEPHONE TALK STRONGLY DENIED

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 7—Stories published in the German press purporting to reveal a telephone conversation between Premier Paul Reynaud and Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain today were branded as "fantastic" by authoritative British quarters.

AUTOS DAMAGED

Arthur Flamino, 317 Neal street, drove a car north on Sampson street, Monday afternoon. Thomas Sadler Jr., 1303 Wilmington avenue, operated a car south, police were told. Cars were parked on both sides of the street and both were damaged when they collided because of lack of room for both to pass through the lane of parked cars.

Here are three good reasons why you should give Homogenized Vitamin "D" Milk to growing youngsters of all ages.

1. Our Homogenizing process breaks up the cream and distributes it all through the milk, so there's cream in every drop. This gives a delightful, creamy flavor that tempts youngsters to drink plenty—and tends to make milk more digestible.
2. 400 Units of Vitamin "D" in every quart help to make strong bones and sound teeth.
3. It's Sealtest-supervised for purity and wholesomeness.

NOTED SPEAKER WILL ADDRESS WIMODAUSIS

Wimodausis Club women extend a cordial invitation to all members of the Federated clubs to join them Wednesday afternoon and hear their guest speaker, in the Cathedral, Mrs. Renwick Miller of Youngstown, O., give the new and outstanding book review on "Sea Island Lady" by Francis Griswald. This will be presented in the Cathedral preceding the regular monthly meeting and just following luncheon for Wimodausis, beginning promptly at 2:30 o'clock.

The local club feels fortunate in having Mrs. Miller as their speaker, as she has gained wide recognition for her charming manner in which she addresses clubs. Mrs. Galyle Blim and Mrs. William Margraff are co-chairman in charge of the entertainment.

Co-hostesses for the evening are Mrs. W. H. Shipler of 312 Highland avenue and Mrs. C. H. Milholland of 433 Winter avenue, in charge of reservations. It is expected a large number will turn out to hear Mrs. Miller on this occasion.

No Field Club Bridge

This week, the usual evening bridge at the New Castle Field Club has been postponed. Plans are not yet completed for the next event of this nature for both men and women club members the calendar dates to be given out later.

MORGAN-WAGNER CEREMONY QUIET

At a quiet wedding ceremony performed in the First Presbyterian church at 7 o'clock Monday evening, Miss Elsie Mae Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Hubert Morgan, of Leasure avenue, became the bride of Hubert L. Wagner, son of Mrs. Anna Wagner of Croton avenue. Dr. J. J. McIlvaine, pastor, officiated with the impressive single ring service.

In the presence of an assemblage of guests numbering upwards of sixty, including immediate familes and close friends of the young couple, the vows were pledged.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a white marquisette gown, made toe length and matching accessories. She had adorning her head, a wreath of orange blossoms, she carried an arm bouquet. Miss Thelma Morgan, her sister and only attendant, was attired in a delphinium blue marquisette, also made floor length with a harmonizing head dress, and her arm bouquet was of mixed flowers.

Howard Ausum served the groom as best man.

Following a short congratulatory period, a wedding dinner was served at the New Castle Field club to relatives and guests numbering twenty-five. The nuptial theme predominated in the appointments throughout with the all white motif featuring. The traditional tiered wedding cake topped with minature figures, guarded by crystal candelabrum holding white tapers, formed the centerpiece.

For the wedding, appropriate music was provided by Miss Olive Fern Sanford, pianist. In her selections she included "At Dawning", "O Promise Me" and the Lohengrin Wedding March.

Later in the day, Mr. and Mrs. Wagner left on an eastern motor trip to Harrisburg, Philadelphia and other points of interest. Upon returning, they will take up residence at the Field Club until their new home is completed on Garfield avenue.

The bride is affiliated in the offices of her father's company, known as Morgan and Burrows and the bridegroom is manager of the New Castle Field club.

Out of town guests present at the ceremony, were Miss Margaret Gillisie and James O'Neill of Pittsburgh and Tom Boyle of Sharon.

The couple have received a magnificient collection of handsome wedding and shower gifts to use in their future home, further testifying to the high esteem in which they are held.

QUEEN ESTHERS MEET TO INSTALL OFFICERS

Queen Esthers of the Third United Presbyterian church met with Mrs. John Kenehan, on Ryan avenue, Monday evening, with Miss Pearl Colnot, Mrs. David Jones, Mrs. David Evans and Mrs. Harold Gray as co-hostesses. The opening was in charge of Miss Sal Renick and Mrs. Bernard Hook, teacher.

Mrs. Hook installed new officers for the coming year, as follows: president, Mrs. Wilbur McKibben; vice president, Mrs. William Mooney; secretary, Mrs. Morris Houk; treasurer, Mrs. Jack Ellis.

Mrs. McKibben opened business activities and plans for the new class year were discussed. Welcome was given Mrs. Ben Owens and Mrs. Frank Usselton, new members, the latter however having been a former associate.

Lunch was served at the close by the hostesses, following an interesting demonstration and talk, one of the program features.

JURY FIXES MOTHER'S CASH VALUE

SONG and story through the ages proclaim the value of a mother's love. Some of the tenderest passages in all literature have to do with the sufferings, both physical and spiritual, of youth bereft of it.

It has been the central theme of great novels, the most poignant appeal in poems long remembered. But though the worth of mother love to offspring is recognized by all races and in all climes, it never has been a tangible, susceptible to yardstick measure or evaluation by troy weight.

Unable to find that New Jersey statute law had ever put a pecuniary value on a mother's life, Judge Barbour in the Bergen circuit court was willing to create a precedent in the case of a mother of five in "a typical American family of modest means," who had been killed in an automobile accident. This he did by refusing to set aside a verdict of $30,000 damages for her estate, saying:

"Certainly it would seem that if the jury is entitled to consider the intellectual, moral and physical training which a child is entitled to receive from its mother, one cannot very well say that it is not worth $5,000, and that the child, in fact, does not suffer a loss of pecuniary value to that extent. In view of the elements which the jury properly considered, the court cannot say that the verdict is excessive."

This is an interesting commentary in more respects than one. It should, among other things, stimulate parents whose eyes it meets to a little introspection as to whether they are worth as much to their children as they ought to be. And unless this reasoning is set aside in the event the case is appealed, there is a precedent for other jurists in dealing with damages alleged to be excessive. It can, though, scarcely affect the decisions of other juries. These have to be made on the basis of the facts in each case, and such awards as are determined will be not by court precedents, but by the jury's own reasoning.

A LETTER MAILED 100 YEARS AGO

One hundred years ago the first postage stamp, famous as "The Penny Black," was stuck on a letter and sent on its way through the British post office.

Aside from establishing the foundation for a collecting fad that has swept the world, not sparing presidents and kings in its progress, the establishment of stamp postage has been of enormous benefit to the human race. It has played a tremendous part in developing low-cost communication throughout the world; spreading intelligence, carrying messages of weal and woe; speeding up and improving the processes of commerce.

Whether your chief reaction to stamps is that you don't particularly like the taste of them, or you are one of millions who have a decided taste for them, that's worth thinking about, 100 years after a little engraved square with Queen Victoria's head on it set forth upon its mighty work.

'FAIRY GOLD' FOR WARTIME WORKERS

The governor of the Bank of Canada warns the people that while salaries and wages tend to increase in wartime, they needn't expect any practical corresponding benefits. Such apparent gains are apt to prove "fairy gold," which vanishes at a touch.

There are two reasons why the anticipated profit is illusory. The cost of living prevents "real wages," to use the economists' term, from increasing. In addition, war taxes take heavy toll from the pay envelope.

The Canadian Minister of Revenue sums it up when he says: "If we must devote a large proportion of our labor to making guns and military supplies, we shall have to do without whatever would be produced in their place in peacetime."

More pay for workers, but lowered standards of living. Spend most of what you make for the necessaries of life and the government takes the rest. The philosopher who remarked, "Give me the luxuries and I'll dispense with the necessaries," would have got a rude jolt in wartime. That's what war means to our neighbors—tightening of belts—and it would mean the same to the American people.

LANDON'S KIND OF CANDIDATE

Former Governor Landon, of Kansas, and four years ago the Republican presidential candidate, said the other day that "we must not permit one man or any group of money raisers to pick our nominee."

He was referring to the next Republican National Convention.

Our opinion is that there will not be any group strong enough to do this.

Conditions within the Republican party are quite different from what they were in 1920.

There is no coterie of bosses such as Penrose and Watson and Daugherty, and the next convention will have in it more men and women who will be independent of bosses or "money raisers."

Mr. Landon described, but did not name, the type of man who should be nominated in these words.

"A man who all of his life has been accustomed to facing the realities of unpleasant facts—to grapple with them and beat them.

"A man who can actually get men back to work . . . a man who who will not tolerate around him a large and influential communistic group who demoralize business and prevent employment by assuming that the capitalistic system is finished.

"A man who will carry out the mandate of the American people and make collective bargaining work; who can make a floor for wages and a ceiling for hours of labor; who can devise a sound farm policy and make it work."

Naturally Governor Landon does not say who his candidate is.

The Republican party, however, has many candidates who fit this description.

Too often we select our candidates for president because of their vote getting qualifications or geographical reasons rather than for their eminent fitness through years of training in public office or for their distinguished services to their country.

Henry Ford predicts there will be more progress in the next decade than for many generations. Such optimism is amazing.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

SYMPATHY FOR BASHFUL BOY

THERE comes a time in nearly every boy's life when he looks down on girls as very inferior creatures, from about nine to 12 years of age. It was during this period when one of my boys refused to have his picture taken with his sister, a few years younger.

"What will the boys think of me if I have my picture taken with a girl?" he asked with great feeling. It was a serious, solemn matter. The issue was not pressed.

There also comes a time (from about 11 to 14) when a boy is fearfully self-conscious in the presence of a girl This is no time for us to make fun of him. He needs our sympathy and understanding then, for his suffering may be very intense.

Recalls Experience

William Lyon Phelps, in his Autobiography with Letters (Oxford University Press), recalling his experiences on graduation from grammar school, gives us a vivid reminder:

"The 24 hours before graduation exercises were among the unhappiest of my life. The reason for this may seem ridiculous, but my agony was real. All the boys and girls who were to receive diplomas were carefully drilled to march in to the auditorium two by two, first the girls, then the boys. The principal in addressing us said there was an odd number of boys and an odd number of girls. . . 'The girls will walk in two by two, then Willie Phelps and Alice Post will follow arm in arm, then will come the boys.' I could not have felt worse had he announced my execution.

"My own sufferings in childhood from bashfulness and self-consciousness were so acute that I have ever since had profound sympathy for any bashful boy or girl. Older people laugh at this, which is brutal; one might as well laugh at a boy writing in physical torment. . . . Yet, all that night I saw myself entering the auditorium, the only boy with a girl, and the entire audience grinning at me. I seriously thought of running away. . . . I was 13 years old and the smallest boy in the class."

Confused By Girls

He said that in the present of girls he was hopelessly confused and tongue-tied. Sometimes while walking on the street, if I saw one a hundred yards away whom I knew and to whom therefore I must take off my hat, I would dive into a side street, or hide in a yard until she had safely passed."

Then he tells of how at the graduation exercises he suffered because he had to laugh and couldn't stop. "It was sheer nervousness." . . . "I was often afraid in the church and prayer meetings that I should laugh, not because anything struck me as funny, but just because I did not want to laugh. This is a curse that particularly afflicts bashful, self-conscious, imaginative boys and girls."

This account by Dr. Phelps should help parents to want to be more considerate of the feelings of our children, especially at the dawn of the teens.

Solving Parent Problems

Q Next to the decline in religion, what do you consider the greatest single contribution to juvenile delinquency and crime in the United States.

A. The prevailing philosophy that children should not be restrained at home lest they be cramped in self-expression, and that a parent never should lay the hand, even on a tot, to restrain him.

Q. Shoud a mother kiss her baby?

A. Of course she should, but not on the lips lest she kill him through spreading disease. What babies and children need is more love, not less of it. However, genuine parental love is not limited to kisses and caresses. Perhaps, the best medium of affection is the voice when it is soft and low, expressing sympathy, interest, understanding.

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)

NEW YORK — Mayor F. H. La Guardia urges America to set an example for the world:

"By staying out of the war we can prove to the people of other countries by our example of living together in peace and harmony that it is possible for people to govern themselves and develop a social security program."

TULSA, Okla. — Eddie Cantor finds a common relief for Americans:

"The one, great, all-embracing religion is Americanism."

NEW YORK—Novelist Fannie Hurst pleads for aid for refugees:

"The cruel dilemmas of thousands of innocent human beings uprooted by war and creed are our immediate concern."

MADISON, Wis.—Former Ambassador to Belgium Joseph E. Davies looks to the war's effects on this country:

"Whatever the result of the world conflict, our form of government must never be translated for a government of, by and for the people to a government of, by and for a dictatorship. This is our America."

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 7:02. Sun rises tomorrow 4:51.

A politcal party often gets a jolt when it makes promises and fails to make good. Broken promises is a great vote getter for another party.

It costs more now to be born free and equal than in the old days.

Perhaps it's a good thing we do not know what some people are thinking when they look at us.

If Hitler wins his wars, it will be up to some country to beat him up. That may be America. Not a bad idea to get ready for just such a condition. Getting ready for him may be cheaper than letting him take us.

Children are necessary noises.

This country has been out of prosperity so long the people may not know how to act when it comes. For that matter, they didn't act right when they had it.

"A man asked a friend, 'me get married? Marriage makes me think of a cafeteria at noon time.'

"How so?"

"In either case, one simply grabs something that looks nice, and pays for it later."

Why bother to follow the crowd? It will be back soon.

One don't know how much stuff there is in a room until it is piled in one corner of it at housecleaning time.

Experts now tell us that vegetables inhale and exhale like human beings.

Which no doubt will start some of them on the way to make an onion hold its breath.

IN REVERSE

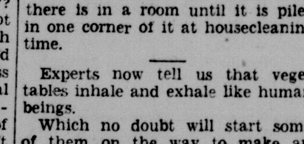
The society editor says that she had some difficulty at first when she started doing society reporting but finally she got the hang of things.

"All you have to do is to mistake debutantes for society leaders and society leaders for debutantes," she says in explaining her success.

World-famed comedians are getting away with pokes as old as this one, sent in by "A Street Car Friend":

"When the skunk went to church he had to sit in his own pew, and when the collection plate was passed he put in a cent."

The winner of a French beauty contest has been declared the most beautiful girl in the world, again illustrating the innate modesty of some people.



Men are people who never again respect a woman if they catch her doing the things they do.

Most people always expect their conscience to give them another chance.

Now in some places boys are being taught cooking and sewing and girls are being taught plumbing and electrical work in the public schools. Those things will come mighty handy later in life if they are taught better than spelling and writing.

Ever know that low blood pressure was once called "poor man's gout?"

Muscles of the human jaw are stronger than most people think. A doctor has measured their strength at 500 pounds.

Next he is going to tackle measurements of that much stronger organ—the tongue.

News that white tomatoes have been developed by a California gardener should give rise to considerable cheering from the bum actors who find that the old-fashioned red tomato plays the dickens with a clean shirt.

Men like to talk of what they would do if young again. As for ourself, we can't think of a thing except that we would change boarding houses.

It looks as if the best way to make people pay their taxes is to print their names and what they owe in the newspapers.

"What you don't know doesn't hurt you, but it amuses a lot of people."

Good Taste

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

By FRANCINE MARKEL

If ambitious to go in for club activities requiring speeches or the reading of papers do, for your listeners' sake, take a course in public speaking. Teachers of this art easily rid their pupils of such common defects as nasal tones, a too high pitch, running of syllables together, blunting of those at the end of words. Untrained speakers may obtain a fair idea of how they would impress audiences by listening in on radio programs whereon amateurs discuss questions with or are queried by professionals.

Some girl or boy selected to represent his high school or college on a quiz program too often sounds like a burlesque show hill-billy when his voice is heard in contrast with that of an announcer with a cultivated voice.

Readers' Questions Answered

Dear Miss Markel: As soon as the weather is permissible, I hope to give a garden party for my teenage daughter. Can you give me any suggestions?—D. C.

Answer: Simply give a tea in your garden or on your lawn. If yours is a large estate and you can afford it, place in the center a marquise (a large gaily-colored tent), which you can hire for the purpose, in which to serve refreshments or dance, if you prefer.

If this is not convenient, distribute throughout the grounds lawn tables, having gaudily-covered umbrellas extending up through their centers. If you have wicker porch furniture, distribute it about in shaded corners. Your servant (or a member of your family or a friend appointed to assist you—if you have no servants) should direct arriving guests into the house, to the dressing rooms and thence to the spot where you as hostess are to receive them.

If the lawn is large and your guests numerous, post your assistants in various spots to see that everyone is properly served. Serve: Tea, sandwiches, cake, nuts and candy.

Miss Markel will promptly mail personal answers to questions from any readers enclosing self-addressed three-cent stamped envelope.

TWELVE REASONS OTHER THAN LOVE

Workers in the Taylor county clerk's office at Abilene, Texas, looked over the marriage license ledger and then listed thirteen reasons why people got married.

To get a living.
To avoid income tax.
To avoid living with the old folks
To save the trouble of putting on their best clothes to go courting.
To get a slice of "Uncle Horace's" estate.
To get the premium that employers put on married men in salary increases and unemployment liability.
Just for a lark.
Curiosity.
Intoxication.
In order that they might settle down and quite wasting money.
To avoid eating in a boarding house.
From fear that it might be their last opportunity.
Love also was listed as one of the reasons.

You could never make some men believe the Golden Rule could be made to work during business hours.

A Judge in Steubenville declared there was a crime school in that city where boys were taught pocket picking and to learn the art of burglary. We have often wondered where pick pockets learned to be so expert. They can look at a person and pick their pockets at the same time.

There are too many people who will only work at the things they want to do and at their own price.

It looks as if the right people are not being killed in the wars in Europe. Just killing a few would stop the killing of millions.

RAW MEAT

Small Boy: "Lions have big appetites, haven't they, daddy?"

Father: "Yes, Sonny."

Small Boy: "They'd be sure to go for the biggest piece of meat, wouldn't they?"

Father: "Certainly."

Small Boy: "I'm not a bit afraid of lions while you're with me daddy!"

That Pittsburgh man who offered a million dollars for the capture of Hitler alive put too many conditions on his offer.

It is predicted that glass will be used for the building of houses in the future. That will not keep some birds from throwing stones.

It looks as if it was a hard job to get one saloon in a district for 1,000 people. There seems to be trouble in finding out just how many people are in a district where there are quite a few saloons.

Meeting a drunk driver isn't really dangerous unless he crosses you up by going zig when he is due to zag.

It is stated there are apout 400,000 fewer men than women voters registered in Pennsylvania. If the gals only realized it, they could run things politically with a high hand.

Even ifthe law does say garbage must be wrapped in paper, we have noticed some garbage collectors who were curious enough to open up the package to see what was in it.

No husband can feel certain his wife is proud of him until she shows signs of wanting to put him on exhibition.

Magazine Promotes Good Feeling
Aids South American Relationship
Latin Americans Can Be Developed

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, May 7.—A new little periodical, calling itself The Pan American, edited by Leslie P. Eichel, well known as a former newspaper and newspaper syndicate editor, has made its appearance on the news stands recently.

The magazine's mission is indicated by its name—the promotion of unity among the New World's peoples. The idea is to get them acquainted, both politically and commercially. It's been much talked about of late, but the movement does need a publication, to give this conversation somewhat more permanency than mere verbal chat.

And now the publication's launched The juncture is very favorable. We Yankees have learned that our Latin neighbors can be developed into extremely useful and profitable ones.

Right after the last World war was too soon. I made the experiment, so I know.

Latin America is a raw material realm. It has to import most of its manufactured supplies. Prior to 1914 it had obtained the bulk of them from Europe, which, however, couldn't continue to provide them during the ensuing conflict. Accordingly, the Latins turned to us.

A Lost Market

By the war's end we had a near-monopoly among them—and could have kept it if we'd tried. Unfortunately, few of our industries tried. Knowing virtually nothing about those market's possibilities, they didn't realize the opportunity they were passing up and simply let it lapse.

Presently, also, we passed the Smoot-Hawley tariff law. That was our trade's finish south of the Rio Grande. Europe, getting back to its legs again, speedily regained all its lost ground.

Latin America likewise is a wonderful field for the judicious investment of Yankee money in the development of its huge natural resources. Some of our capitalists did invest, but they did it so unskilfully, due to ignorance of the proper chances to take, that they lost heavily. It was their own fault. Nevertheless, it was another black eye for Pan American relations.

All the same, our business was thriving all over the southern Americas at the time the armistice was signed.

I was living in Buenos Aires, where I'd been handling Uncle Sam's war-time publicity in Argentina, Uruguay, Paraguay and Chile. The prospect looked good for the starting of a post-war North American commercial weekly there to boost our interests.

The River Platte American

So I started one, which I named The River Platte American. It did well for awhile. Then the North American decline set in. Our branch mercantile establishments began shutting up right and left. It knocked my advertising into a cocked hat. Still, I hung on for two years.

At that point an Argentine publisher offered to buy me out. I thought it was an amirable moment at which to sell and I did. I was lucky, too. The River Platte American suspended a few months later subsequently.

The new Pan American makes its appearance under more promising circumstances.

We generally know now that Latin American friendship and trade are worth having. We have, besides, an understanding Pan American administration in Washington. Presidents Wilson, Harding and Coolidge hopelessly bungled our relationships with the Latins. President Hoover's attitude was all right, but he hadn't what the Latins call a "sympathetic personality", so his overtures didn't "take".

President Roosevelt's "my friends" in precisely his tone of voice is exactly the correct article.

Bi- or Tri-lingual

I think The Pan American's management will learn, as I did, that it's got to be bi-lingual, not exclusively English-language, as its initial issue is.

Latin America can be introduced here in English, but we can't be introduced to Latin America except in the latter's own tongue—or tongues. Tongues?—yes. Brazil speaks Portuguese. Spanish-speakers and Portuguese-speakers insist that they can't understand one another. As a matter of fact, they can and do, if the chat relates to some transaction that they mutually hope to be financially profitable to them.

For all that, a Pan American magazine needs to be tri-, not uni-, or even bi-lingual.

The new magazine represents April-to-June. Then there'll be a mid-summer quarterly issue. Subsequently it will be a monthly.

On the front cover is a portrait of State Secretary Hull, turning "thumbs up on Pan America". It isn't an official publication, but it has an official blessing. Secretary Hull wouldn't be there otherwise. Anybody can get his picture—but not with his thumbs up, so conspicuously.

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1940 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

We thought that story from Washington about cells in cancerous plants forming the sign of the swastika ought to have some kind of a scientific follow-up and we have been watching for it. None has appeared. It was a casual little item. Dr. D. F. Jones of the Connecticut Agricultural Experiment station, reported to the annual meeting of the National Academy of Sciences that the chromosomes in a cancerous growth of corn arranged themselves in the swastika form. Then he said:

"The swastika is a sign of malignant growth not only in the political field out living matter as well."

We have profound respect for science. Most of it we have to accept on faith, as in mediaeval days people accepted theological dogma. There are few among us who know any more about chromosomes than did the general run of the soldiers in the Thirty-Years War about supralapsarianism. Less than 1,000 individuals have basically contributed to the transformation of the modern world by science, and it is possible that not many more profoundly understand the fundamentals of this change. Thus we, too, live in an age of faith, and there rests upon the scientist not only a professional but a moral obligation not to get his science snarled up with politics and emotion.

In short, we find this swastika-chromosome discovery hard to take, although the cancerous derivation of the symbol would seem to meet the mood of the moment in this country. Nature never tagged anything "good" or "evil". In fact, she has been so remiss in this matter that she has left the argument wide open, in barroom discussions and university seminars and all between.

Out of these discussions, and the general wear and tear of trying to find the good and to escape the evil, we have built up a vast array of symbols but they are man-made and none is written in the rocks, embroidered or feather-stitched in living tissue, or worked into the configuration of the stars. Some philosophers, including Herbert Spencer, have found good the measure of our general well-being, and evil the lack of it. Other philosophers and mystics offer a dual universe as an antithesis of basic good and evil. None has ever maintained that deep down in the secret crypt of life there is the matrix of good or evil, discernible to the eye of man. Dr. Jones breaks new ground.

We should like to hear more from Dr. Jones about the swastika being a "sign of malignant growth in the political field". From all we can learn, the Jains of India, predecessors of the Buddhists, first known owners and operators of the swastika, esteemed it as a benign rather than a malevolent symbol. Historians, archaeologists and anthropologists have delved far back into the dawn days in searching out the origin and meaning of the swastika. They have found its amazing recurrence among peoples widely dispersed in time and geography. They have found it so persistent that it has been given a place in symbols which seem to flow down through the "racial unconscious".

But nowhere on record is there any assertion, if you will search authoritative books such as Frazier's "Golden Bough", and Sumner's "Folkways", that the swastika has been a symbol of evil. Since the rise of the Nazis there have

STOP DOING IT

The Supreme Court a few weeks ago handed down a decision which pointed out clearly and emphatically the way to reunion for these disunited states. By a 5-to-3 judgment the court voided an Arkansas law for levying a 6½-cent tax on every gallon of gasoline carried across, and not used within, its territory. The dissenting judges declared that the remedy for all such state tariffs was within "the ample reach of Congress . . . which alone in the exercise of its plenary constitutional control over interstate commerce . . . can devise a national policy fair alike to the state and to the union."

The temporary national economic committee has been holding hearings on these trade barriers. It was high time for such an examination.

Now 162 Of 306 Districts 'Covered, By Census Army Serving Tri-County Area

Census authorities here reported today that 162 of the 306 census enumeration districts in the 26th congressional district — embracing Lawrence, Butler and Beaver counties—have now been covered and that census-taking in the remaining 144 districts is "85 percent completed."

District Supervisor Jacob Venger, whose headquarters staff is in the Greer building, indicated that eagerly-awaited population totals may not be ready "for several days or so."

It was learned that an extension in time has been granted the nose-counting army because of difficulties encountered.

Much of the counting in New Castle proper, Venger said, has been finished. A greater part of the unfinished work is in the rural areas.

Stacked side by side in the Greer building office are the data-packed census portfolios which enumerators turned in as they completed district assignments. Those portfolios will be inspected here and later, bound together in political sub-divisions, (city by city, borough by borough and township by township), will be sent to Washington headquarters.

Local census workers, it was learned, will be paid direct from Washington on the basis of working reports mailed in from the local 26th district office.

Some Candidates Really Work For Votes These Days

Alabama Office Aspirants Hang Out Wash, Chop Wood, And Churn

(International News Service)

TALLADEGA, Ala.—There is no limit to what a candidate for office will do. Talladega County court house gossips have proof in a tale they tell on two of the many candidates for circuit court.

Candidate number one drove up to the rural home of an elderly lady and found her washing clothes in the yard.

The candidate politely requested her vote and sought to gain her favor by hanging out the wet garments as they came from the old lady's busy hands.

Washing finished, the lady went to the well and started drawing water.

"Allow me," politely said candidate number one, taking over and drawing water until the old lady then began picking up kindling and the aforesaid candidate number one, weary but still polite (and ambitious) performed that task also.

Then he went to the woodpile and loading himself down, started for the house, staggering a little from the weight but thoroughly convinced he had won a vote.

"Just put the wood in the kitchen, young man," directed the woman.

Candidate number one opened the kitchen door . . . and dropped the wood when he saw candidate number two sitting there churning.

April Proved Cool, Wet Month

Excess In Precipitation And Deficiency In Temperature Shown

April carried on where March left off, particularly in reference to the kind of weather experienced during the winter, a deficiency of 2.2 inches of temperature per day being noted. There was also a large excess in precipitation, the increase amounting to more than falls in some months or 2.33 inches.

The figures show the mean maximum temperature was 58.3 degrees, the mean minium 34.1 degrees and mean or average 46.2 degrees. The highest was 80 degrees on the 29th and the lowest was 22 degrees on the 6th. The greatest daily range was 43 degrees on the 29th.

The total precipitation for the month was 5.75 inches while the normal for April is 3.42 inches, an excess of 2.33 inches being recorded. The greatest downfall in 24 hours was 2:07 inches on the 20th. The total snowfall for the month was 3.3 inches. Days with .01 inches or more of precipitation were 16 days clear, 15; partly cloudy, 9; cloudy 6.

In April of 1939 there was an excess of .14 inches in precipitation and a deficiency of 1.6 inches in temperature, the snowfall being almost the same at 3.4 inches.

Scout Troop Has Fathers And Sons Banquet Monday

Mayor Charles B. Mayne Is Principal Speaker At First U. P. Church

Mayor Charles B. Mayne was the principal speaker at a fathers and sons banquet held Monday evening in the dining room of the First United Presbyterian church, under the sponsorship of Boy Scout Troop 3.

The banquet and program was arranged by the Explorers Patrol of the troop. The program follows:

Parade of colors by patrol members, with Rosco Kirkpatrick serving as bugler. "America" was sung by the entire group and Dr. S. E. Irvine delivered the invocation.

Sam Lewis led group singing, with A. Alfred Taylor at the piano. Dr. Burr Rogers, chairman of the troop committee introduced: Dr. A. H. Borland, E. D. Nesbitt, George Morrow and Elmer Gerlach, members of the committee.

Dr. Rogers also introduced Roger Hawk, patrol leader and master of ceremonies for the evening. Dr. Irvine welcomed the fathers and sons in a short address.

Hon. James H. Chambers, who was instrumental in starting Troop 3, nine years ago, spoke briefly Dr. Borland supplied a financial report of the troop for the year. Scoutmaster E. D. Hawk announced the troop program for the coming year.

Mayor Mayne told, in an interesting fashion, of his experiences in Alaska, during the Klondike gold rush.

Following Scouts were in charge: Roger Hawk, Bob Black, Howard Snyder, Emery Back, Dave Treharne, Alvin Paradise, Vern Dufford, Bob Payne, Bill Ferver, John Wilson and Bill Paradise.

AROUND CITY HALL

Some time ago council discussed the straightening of State street hill. Plans for eliminating the curves were perused. However, nothing has been said concerning the proposed improvement recently. Various motor accidents occurred on the slippery, winding hill last winter.

Willard Hood is now attached to the police traffic division. He is plying a paint brush to signs . . . Reynolds street between William street and Pollock avenue is being paved. Temple avenue is ready for work whenever the city and WPA get to it, reports state.

All city offices, except that of the treasury now open at 8 a. m., and close at 4 p. m. The treasury opens at 8:30 a. m. and closes at 4 p. m. . . . Council has exonerated the city treasurer of the collection of 1937 personal taxes amounting to $11,966.72.

City will spend $1,900.00 for material for the resurfacing of Neshannock avenue between North street and Rural avenue; North Mercer street between Grant street and Lincoln avenue; and Hamilton street between Long and Galbreath avenues. The city will provide the labor.

Permission was granted by the city to the Bell Telephone company to construct a conduit for an underground telephone connection to the Lawrence Auto company . . . Council approved payment to the Pennsylvania Power company of the April current bill amounting to $6,139.54.

Application was made to the city for a permit to construct a tabernacle at 1005 Moravia street. The application was presented by St Johns United Holy church. Because the section is in the fire limits council referred the request to Safety Director D. O. Davies

Claim Germans Lose 600,000 Tons Of Ships In War

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 7.—German mercantile losses since the European war began total more than 600,000 gross tons of shipping, the British Admiralty estimated today.

Of this amount, Admiralty officials asserted, the Germans have lost 300,000 tons since April 1, largely as a result of the Norwegian campaign.

The Admiralty stated 454,000 tons of German shipping have been accounted for definitely as captured, scuttled or sunk.

In addition, it was claimed, 30 unidentified ships totalling approximately 150,000 tons have been sunk by allied submarines and aircraft.

First Accident At Indianapolis

(International News Service)

INDIANAPOLIS, May 7.—George Bailey, of Detroit, Mich., was injured seriously when his racer turned over on the southeast turn of the Indianapolis motor speedway today.

It was the first accident of the year on the speedway.

Bailey, testing a rear-motor car for the 500-mile race on Memorial Day, was traveling approximately 128 miles an hour when the car spun about, struck the wall and turned into the inside of the track. Then it caught fire. Bailey was thrown clear of the wreckage. A track attendant smothered the blaze in the race driver's clothing and he was taken to the Methodist hospital in the speedway ambulance.

Ask Reward Of $10,000 To Get Slayer Of Girl

Center County Citizens Deeply Aroused By Second Crime Of Past Few Weeks

(International News Service)

BELLEFONTE, Pa., May 7.—With police baffled at every turn, neighbors of the murdered Fay Gates today importuned Centre county commissioners to post a $10,000 reward for the apprehension of her slayer.

Shortly after District Attorney Musser W. Gettig asked the commissioners to offer a $5,000 reward for the maniacal killer of the Gates girl and of 17-year-old Rachel Taylor, Pennsylvania State College co-ed, the town's business men urged the posting of the larger sum.

Rewards amounting to $2,500 already have been offered for capture of the man who waylaid and bludgeoned to death Miss Taylor as she returned to college five weeks ago.

Miss Gates' battered body was found on a lonely highway early Sunday only 12 miles from the scene of the other killing, and state police were convinced that the same assailant committed both crimes.

The slayer's trail became colder upon the admission by police that finger prints taken from the automobile driven by the Gates' girl failed to yield a clue.

It was also established that the tan sedan seen following the girl's car up to the time of the slaying turned out to be one owned by a youth who was driving with a girl companion.

Author Refuses Pulitzer Prize

Young Armenian Author Rejects $1,000 Accolade Awarded Him

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 7. — William Saroyan, the quixotic young Armenian author, today took his place at the side of Sinclair Lewis by hurling a Pulitzer prize back in the face of its donors.

No sooner had Saroyan learned in California that the $1,000 accolade had been awarded him than he abruptly rejected it. He did so, he explained, as a protest against patronization of art.

Saroyan was awarded the prize for his play, "The Time Of Your Life." Lewis, in 1926, found the $1,000 Pulitzer prize given him for his "Arrowsmith" and "objectionable and dangerous" award and rejected it also.

It was not modesty that impelled Saroyan to turn down the prize, his explanation clearly revealed.

"I believe that the play is a good and perhaps great theatrical work," Saroyan said. "However, I also believe in the essential and possible greatness of all my work, in the theater as well as in the short story form."

Asserting that he could not accept patronage from wealth, he added:

"Art must be democratic. But at the same time it must be both proud and aloof. It must not be taken in either by praise or criticism. Wealth, I am sure, cannot patronize art and the strange impulse of wealth to seek to do this, I believe, is a curious example of noble bad taste."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

four cents a gallon on wine from home-grown grapes and a 50-cent tax on out-of-state wine? Why has Rhode Island at times reddened the milk entering the state from outside its prescribed milkshed? Why should the driver of a six-ton truck traveling across lots from Alabama to South Carolina have to put up $1100 in taxes in three states?

Practically all such levies are due to avarice and attempts to protect and boost local markets unfairly, but they are defended by home authorities on a dozen pretexts—the safeguarding of health being one of the favorites. All these regulations violate the spirit and many of them the actual letter of the constitution. Congress alone has power to regulate commerce among the several states. "No state shall, without the consent of the Congress, lay any imposts or duties on imports or exports except what may be absolutely necessary for executing its inspection laws." Also: "No preference shall be given by any regulation of commerce or revenue to the ports of one state over those of another." The time should not be far away when the states will see that these "protective" measures are costly devices for damaging themselves. At least one Governor, Julius Heil of Wisconsin, is saying so. He finds that the Wisconsin 1932 oleomargarine tax has cost the state more than twice the revenue it has collected.

The barriers which the forty-eight states have been piling around their borders tend to put the country right back where it was under the Articles of Confederation. During those few years before the adoption of the Constitution the thirteen states levied all sorts of duties against one another and the results were the hobbling of progress, the stifling of trade, and the retarding of all trends to national unity. A Justice of the Supreme Court has said that the states would have wrecked the Union long ago had it not been for that commerce clause.

President Back At White House

Takes Personal Charge Of Fight For Extension Of Provisions Of Hatch Act

By GEORGE E. DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 7—Back in the White House from a week-end visit to his boyhood home on the upper reaches of the Hudson river, President Roosevelt assumed personal charge today of the fight for extension of Hatch Act restrictions on political activities of state employes receiving a portion of their salary checks from the federal government.

He summoned the legislative "Big Four"—Vice President Garner, Senate Majority Leader Barkley, Speaker Bankhead and House Majority Leader Rayburn—to the executive offices to map strategy for bringing amendments to the "clean politics" bill out of a house pigeonhole and onto the floor for a vote.

At the same time the chief executive sounded out the congressional leaders on their best guesses as to the date of congressional adjournment. Mr. Roosevelt is interested in an early June adjournment so that he will be able to make his projected transcontinental swing, which may include a sea dash to Alaska.

been statements that they have turned the arms of the swastika backward, thereby making it malignant. But, in refutation of this, there is abundant and authoritative evidence that the swastika has stood for benevolence, no matter how the semaphore arms were set—and they have been set both ways.

We have not yet renewed our 1940 scientist's license, but we get it right out of Pittsburgh Phil's feed box that the organic quality of human society, on which Dr. Jones' theory must stand, has never been established. There is no evidence whatever that the word "politics" has any standing in nature. The late G. Stanley Hall of Clark university was one of many scientists to kick to pieces previous loose assumptions that society is an organism.

One of the first things the leading Nazi scientists did was to promise that they would throw out the "debased Jewish atom", and give the Reich an unsullied "Aryan atom". Do we have to get that way too? It would seem to this onlooker that these are days in which science, above all, should be cold, factual and precise. It is our one defensive against the chimeras which now move against us.

PRIME MINISTER SHOWS ATTITUDE UNDER ATTACK

First Lord of the Admiralty Winston Churchill directly responsible for day-to-day conduct of the war.

In a lengthy statement to a restless and partly hostile house of commons, Chamberlain stood unmoved by angry cries of 'resign" and taunts of "who missed the bus?" and showed clearly his determination to remain in office and prosecute the war as he and his cabinet have agreed.

"Let us beware," he said, "against being tempted into such dispersal of our forces as might suit the enemy. Let us beware of jitterings and divisions among ourselves, when presently we may be faced in the most violent form with attacks directed against this country."

Speech Was Lame

General feeling in the lobbies was that Chamberlain's speech was lame. The frequent interruptions clearly showed that laborites will not coalesce with the government while Chamberlain is at the helm. This was most clearly shown when the prime minister's request for wholehearted cooperation in the war effort was greeted with a full-throated labor cry:

"Not with you in charge!"

Major Richard Clement Attlee, the laborite leader, charged that the government persistently made misleading speeches "full of lame excuses."

"We are not afraid of facing facts," he said.

"This is a reverse. The Norwegian campaign never was meant to be a mere 'tip and run' exploit. The country considered it of major importance."

Chamberlain's first move was to turn down an opposition demand for another secret session of the house to discuss alleged deficiencies in Britain's fighting services.

Chamberlain's government supporters cheered almost constantly to drown out opposition taunts. As he rose, the prime minister paid tribute to the "splendid gallantry and skill" of all branches of the British forces engaged in Norway "whatever criticism may be made about anyone else."

"Profound Shock"

The prime minister admitted that news of the British withdrawal from Aandalsnes had created a "profound shock," to which the opposition shouted:

"And it still is!"

Opposition interruptions became so frequent at the outset of Chamberlain's statement that the speaker was compelled to intervene with the announcement he would not permit them to continue.

Chamberlain sought at the outset to absolve the armed forces completely for the Norwegian setback.

"We must expect to be blamed for everything, he said, referring to his government.

"I do not wish to extenuate anything. At the same time I hope I shall not exaggerate the extent or importance of the check we have received.

Not Comparable To Gallipoli

"Our withdrawal from Norway is not comparable to Gallipoli.

"No large forces were involved—not much more than a single division.

(This was Chamberlain's first admission that not more than fifteen or twenty thousand British troops comprised the expeditionary force sent to Norway.)

"Our losses were not really great in men or material. The German losses were far heavier in warships, planes, transports and men."

Chamberlain admitted, however, that British losses could not be measured merely by the men on the spot.

"We have suffered a certain loss of prestige," he said. "Certain color has been given to a false legend of German invincibility on land. Some discouragements have been caused our friends.

"We must accept that position for the moment, but we need not help our enemies by making it worse."

This statement was greeted with cheers.

"The only effect of the reverse upon the British and French," Chamberlain said, "has been to stiffen our determination...

Attacker Of Girl Hunted By Police

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., May 7—Authorities today intensified their hunt for a "large and vicious looking" man who attacked 13-year-old Violet Rigger near her Evans manor home.

The girl told police the man trailed her when she went to a store previous to going to school and that he finally overtook her and dragged her into underbrush. Her screams, however, attracted the attention of a man working in a nearby field. The attacker ran away as the field man rushed to the girl's assistance. She suffered from shock and bruises on her legs.

Mitchell To Be Chief Speaker

General Manager Of Lines West To Speak At B. & O. Event Here

OTHER EXECUTIVES OF LINE COMING

F. B. Mitchell, general manager of the Lines West, Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, will be the principal speaker at the Second Annual B & O Day celebration in the Cathedral, May 28, it was announced today. With Mr. Mitchell a number of other B. & O. executives will be here on that day, the day which will be set as B. and O. Day in New Castle.

Mr. Mitchell is a veteran of the B. & O. service. Starting as a telegraph operator in 1901 he advanced to positions as secretary, car distributor, superintendent and previous to the present post was general superintendent of the district of which New Castle is a part.

Mr. Mitchell and his party will arrive at New Castle Junction early on May 28 and a tour of the city is being planned for them. A luncheon at the Field Club and a golf match is on the schedule. Invitations have been extended to business and civic leaders to attend the luncheon at the Field Club.

In the Cathedral starting at 6:30 a dinner, a program of entertainment and a dance will be held.

More Than 1,500 Persons Gather For Annual Spaghetti Dinner And Dance

Success was written after the 31st annual St. Vitus church spaghetti dinner and dance held in The Cathedral, Monday evening.

Hot plates of delicious spaghetti were served to approximately 1,500 persons, the Rev. Fr. Joseph L. Abbate, general chairman, estimated. During the serving of dinner, delightful music was offered by students of the Donati School of Music.

Dancing was in vogue following dinner.

Late Doctor's Discovery For Stomach Ulcer Pains

Thousands are paying tribute to the memory of a famous doctor whose discovery has brought them relief from acid stomach ulcer pains. He discovered that coating the stomach lining with bismuth would protect the sensitive parts against the irritating action of foods and digestive secretions. Udga Tablets contain bismuth and other valuable ingredients in a balanced formula. They have been praised by thousands. Try a 25c box of Udga for relief of ulcer and stomach pains, indigestion, gas pains, heartburn, burning sensation, bloat and other conditions caused by excess acid. Udga Tablets are safe to use and must help or your money refunded.

Music Club To Present Noted Violinist Monday

Basserman To Share Program At George Washington High On Monday Evening

On Monday evening, May 13, at 8:15 o'clock, in the George Washington high auditorium, the Music club of New Castle will present Hans Basserman, concert violinist of the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra, in a program which should be of great interest to New Castle music lovers.

His accompanist, Wendall Otey, is an instructor in music appreciation and assistant organist at the University of Pittsburgh.

These gifted artists will be assisted by the Music club's presentation of the "Deacon's Masterpiece," better known as "The Wonderful One-Hoss Shay."

The chorus will be directed by Mrs. W. J. Caldwell, and the two-piano accompaniment will be played by Helerr Ewing and Mrs. Katherine Nessle Allen.

Argue Forfeiture Of Bond For Club

Superior Court Asked To Decide On Bond Action Of New Castle Club

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH May 7—The Pennsylvania superior court Monday was asked to decide whether or not an action by the state liquor control board is valid in declaring forfeited the $1,000 bond posted by a New Castle club after the club itself was dissolved by court order.

Attorney Edward A. Petrillo, arguing for the Mahoningtown Railway Men's Club, of (20-22 N. Liberty St.) New Castle and the Continental Casualty Company, which posted the bond, declared that under the state law an action against a dissolved corporation could be "prosecuted but not instituted."

The board's action in formally revoking a license held by the club and in declaring its bond forfeited, he said, involved "institution of proceedings," and therefore was illegal. He freely admitted that the club prior to its dissolution, had not complied with certain rules relating to sales and distribution of liquor.

Horace A. Segelbaum, deputy attorney general arguing in behalf of the board, said the board was acting within its proper procedure in declaring the bond forfeit and pointed out that the state allows nonprofit corporations—the New Castle club was formed under this type of charter—two years in which to wind up their affairs. This would also declare forfeit the $1,000 bond, he said.

Ministerial Group Has Meeting Monday

Rev. W. A. Thornton Is Speaker At Meeting In First Presbyterian Church

"Facts About Great Britain", particularly as they touched his life in England, were given by Rev. W. A. Thornton, pastor of Epworth Methodist church, when he spoke before the New Castle Ministerial Association at its meeting Monday in the First Presbyterian church. He was introduced by Rev. W. V. McLean.

Rev. Thomas B. Shearer, president, had charge of the meeting and devotions were conducted by Rev. C. J. Burton. Afterwards, committee reports were heard and Rev. W. V. McLean, for the park committee, requested the appointment of more members for the committee and Revs. P. C. Pearson, A. M. Stump and T. B. Shearer were chosen. Rev. Pearson, for the library committee, announced that new books were on a special shelf in the library and the secretary was instructed to send a letter of commendation to Rev. Frank Lehman's new field of service.

Owing to the fact that several ministers have been transferred, the following were appointed to fill vacancies on the law and order committee: Revs. R. T. Williams, C. T. R Yeates, J. A. Cousins and M. E. Shearer.

Resolutions were adopted, extending the sympathy of the members to the secretary, Rev Robert B. Withers, and his family in the loss of their father, R. T. Withers, and Rev. McLean reported on the condition of Rev. F. S. Neigh's health.

The meeting closed with prayer by Rev. Paul J. Tau.

Final meeting of the association will be a business session to be held on Monday, May 20.

GERMAN PRESS SAYS ALLIES PLAN ATTACK IN MEDITERRANEAN

(International News Service)

BERLIN, May 7.—A purported 15-minute telephone conversation between British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain and French Premier Paul Reynaud, in which "the zero hour for the Allied attack in the Mediterranean" was set for May 20th was reported today throughout the German press.

Apparently based upon reports of German secret service agents, the Nazi newspaper stories said the conversation took place April 20th between 10:10 and 10:25 p. m.

(Authoritative British quarters in London branded as "fantastic" the purported phone talk. Paris likewise branded it as "untrue").

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

SEPTICAEMIA

Childbed fever, puerperal fever, septicaemia, are all names for the cause of more deaths of mothers in childbirth than any other single cause. It used to be that it would suddenly make its appearance in the maternity ward of a hospital, and carry off half a dozen mothers before it could be checked. For years and years it baffled medical men. I remember myself hearing it referred to as "milk fever" because it was thought by some that the disease had something to do with the formation of milk in the mother's breasts.

Then, a Vienna doctor, Philip Semmelweiss, published one of the most revolutionary medical papers of all time. In it he showed that the cause of childbed fever was insufficient cleanliness. It was just old-fashioned blood poisoning induced by using sheets, or instruments, or hands that were not sterile. Since this discovery, the deaths from the disease have been reduced considerably, particularly in hospitals, where it is comparatively easy to make and keep things sterile.

This need for scrupulous cleanliness in obstetrics is dramatized in the movie, "The Fight for Life," to which I referred here last week. It shows the routine the maternity "crew" goes through invariably, whether in the slum home or the most modern hospital. One point it brings out is that in poor homes it's a good idea to have plenty of newspapers on hand to put under and around things during a delivery. This is because newspapers are likely to be much more sterile than most of the things in the home.

In my practice here, I couldn't depend on the newspaper supply. The persons out in the country just didn't have papers. I had to put the sheets and other things I was going to use in the oven and bake them to make them sterile. Sometimes I had to take these to the home myself.

In my country country practice the doctor had an added handicap in obstetrics; he often wasn't called until the woman was already in trouble. Up here they have large families, births are regarded as quite a normal thing and they may not have a doctor unless the midwife runs into trouble.

Of course, these midwives had no real understanding of the urgent need for 100% cleanliness and so puerperal fever was always fairly common in my practice. I often used to wonder why it wasn't a great deal more common than it was, for many of the homes were none too clean, and keepng things sterile in the sick room and the bed where the baby was being born was difficult even if you were trying. Probably what saved many mothers from death from septicaemia was the fact that they had built up an immunity to the germs in their own homes, and only when some bacteria was brought in from outside that there was trouble.

We know now that many a woman has died of septicaemia because someone with an infection of the throat was around when she was in labor. Hospitals discovered this many years ago and put an end to most of the epidemics of childbed fever in those institutions.

Today we know how to prevent septicaemia and how to fight it when it does break out, with drugs allied to those we use in combatting throats infected by streptococcus.

Youth Who Took Wild But Futile Flight Held For June Court

A plea of guilty to larceny of an automobile was entered yesterday before Alderman Wallace J. Ewing, by Chester Tomski, the 22 year old New Castle youth who led City Patrolman Thomas J. Boyle on a merry chase over country roads last Saturday before his capture in a farm swamp near Harlansburg.

Tomski pleaded to the theft of the car he was driving at the time, a 1940 Plymouth from the J. R. Rick Motor Car Co. Chief of Police Marion J. Young placed the charge.

Alderman Ewing sent the youth to county jail to await the June term of criminal court after he pleaded to the Rick theft, another car theft from the parking lot of the Chevrolet Keystone Co. and of merchandise from Carl Brown, 350 East Washington street.

He was unable to provide total bail requirements of $3,000.

Officer Boyle, off duty at the time he spotted young Tomski in the stolen machine in the Moffat school vicinity in the East Brook district, was enjoying an afternoon drive with Mrs. Boyle.

Recognizing Tomski, Boyle took up chase. The race was a wild one, over completed and uncompleted roads. Finally, the fleeing youth leaped from his car and Boyle pursued him afoot. Back in a swamp near the Thomas Cooper farm, he captured him.

Seek To Cut Down Grade Crossing Crashes In State

State Designs Safety Program

To Expend About $2,000,000 During Year For Grade Crossing Safety

LAST YEAR SHOWS ACCIDENT INCREASE

By JOHN PAGET
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, May 7. — A $5,000,000 grade crossing program designed to eliminate hundreds of caualties annually was pressed with renewed vigor today by the highway department and the public utility commission.

The two state bodies accelerated their campaign to reduce crossing accidents when commission figures for 1939 indicated a 29.8 increase in the number killed and injured at 11,529 crossings.

More than $2,000,000 has been earmarked for expenditure this summer while the balance will be spent within the following 12 months. Part of the money will come from federal funds.

Seek To Stem Accidents

The program to stem the thousands of yearly accidents at both protected and unprotected crossings is divided into two parts—gradual elimination of crossings or the extension of protection.

Guy R. Johnson, chief of the commission's transit bureau, pointed out "it is possible to protect 40 or 50 crossings for what it costs to eliminate one."

He estimated that $3,000 was the average figure to install protection at crossings while $50,000 or $60,000 is required to abolish a crossing.

"Dollar for dollar," declared Johnson, "the percentage of accident reduction is much greater in protection than in elimination.

New Type Safety Gates

At the same time, Secretary of Highway I. Lamont Hughes revealed he has approved a request to set up an experimental revolutionary type of highway safety crossing guard which absorbs the impact of a speeding motor car and swiftly brings it to a stop with minimum hazard to occupants.

The new barrier, costing approximately $12,000, operates the same as the iron or wooden cross arms now in use.

The joint safety program, which is supervised by the PUC and financed by the state in conjunction with grants from the federal grade crossing elimination fund, was stepped up because of high speed automobiles and improved highways.

Must Protect More

"Many crossings," said Johnson, "which were not at all dangerous prior to the high-speed automobiles must now be either eliminated or constantly protected with flashing lights, watchmen or other signals."

Since January 1, 1940, said Johnson, 163 accidents at crossings have claimed nine lives and injured 52. In a similar period in 1939, he added, 109 accidents accounted for eight killed and 47 injured. Johnson said that in 1939 a total of 55 persons were killed and 280 injured—a slight increase over preceding years.

Johnson, who asserted the commonwealths' safety record at railroad crossings is one of the best in the nation, ascribed the rising death toll to the increased use of automobiles within the last 10 years. He admitted, however, that a lack of suitable precautionary measures at certain crossings contributed to the casualty list.

Secretary Hughes was jubilant over his department's record in eliminating the grade crossings. He predicted that "some day there won't be a railroad grade crossing in the state."

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 7.—The inclusion in Governor James' special session call of extension of the Pittsburgh-Harrisburg super-highway to Philadelphia will, it is believed, assure the construction of the new highway within the near future. . . . It is estimated that the extension will cost approximately $50,000,000. . . . The highway now under construction is costing $70,000,000. . . . It is nearing completion and will be opened formally by President Roosevelt on July 4.

The enactment of the necessary legislation permitting the turnpike commission to construct the Harrisburg to Philadelphia link is regarded as a foregone conclusion. . . . It is non-controversial, the federal government will provide the funds for the new highway as it is doing for the one now under construction. . . . Turnpike Commission Chairman Walter A. Jones is believed to hold the assurances of President Roosevelt that the government will build the new highway. . . . A superhighway linking the steel city of Pittsburgh with the seaboard city of Philadelphia is believed to hold considerable military value in the event of a war.

Governor James, while campaigning in 1938, declared he was opposed to construction of the turnpike. . . . After a heart-to-heart talk, however, with Walter Jones following his inauguration he withdrew his opposition. . . . Jones told him the road wasn't costing the state a cent.

The decision of the Pennsylvania world's fair commission to continue the state's exhibit this year at the New York exposition brought considerable satisfaction to Gotham officials. . . . The Pennsylvania exhibit, a replica of Independence Hall, attracted the greatest number of visitors of any state exhibit. . . . The features of the 1939 exhibit will be there this year also, plus new ones. . . . The arch of freedom and the wall of coal were two of the major features of the 1939 exhibit which can be viewed again this year.

The inclusion in the governor's special session call of 11 subjects in place of the two or three originally contemplated may lengthen the session and cause it to last more than the two weeks thought necessary by the governor. . . . James revealed that if he had heeded all the suggestions made more than 50 subjects would have been included in the call.

The rush to get marriage licenses continues and will likely continue until May 13. After that no marriage license can be applied for unless the applicants have a health certificate.

The law requiring health certificates goes into effect on May 17 but it says that NO LICENSE CAN ISSUE after that date without a certificate. In order to be issued an application must be made three days prior. This means that May 13 will be the last day to apply for a license without a health certificate.

The details of the new law are not yet worked out clearly. The applicants must apply to a physician for a health certificate and take an examination. After the examination a test must be made at a certified laboratory. It is not known yet how many such laboratories there will be but it is assumed that the two hospitals will be certified.

Finds New Way To Settle Strike

McKeesport Taxi Operator Dissolves Firm, Sells Stock To New Employes

(International News Service)

McKEESPORT, Pa., May 7.—The best way to settle a strike is to dissolve the company and start a new one. That, in essence, is the philosophy of Raymond Patterson, sole owner of the McKeesport taxicab company who got "sick and tired" of frequent strikes and incorporated a new firm.

The strike, caused by union drivers who wanted higher wages, held the cabs idle for three months.

"So far as I'm concerned," Patterson said, "The strike is over, settled, finished The company with which the union had the differences is no longer in existence. The certificate was surrendered to the public utilities commission."

The incorporated company has a new charter and a brand new certificate with which to operate.

"Stock in the new firm," he said, "was sold to individuals who were later hired as drivers and telephone girls. They are working now, and as stockholders, will share in the profits."

Essay Contest For Boy, Girl Scouts

Winners Of Best Letters On Scouting To Be Awarded Cash Prizes

ELLWOOD CITY, May 7—Boy Scout. Girl Scout. Attention!

What is the question which the citizens of Ellwood City and particularly your parents are asking? You don't know! Any of your leaders can answer that question, but we will answer it for you. "What Does Scouting Do For My Child?"

Who can answer this question? No one but you, John Doe and you, Jane Roe, boy and girl scout. You are the ones who are receiving the benefits of scouting.

So that we may tell the public what scouting is doing for you, the finance campaign committee is sponsoring a contest to find the two best answers to this question, "What Has Scouting Done For Me?"

Two prizes will be awarded by the committee, one for the best answer from a girl and the other from a boy. Each winner will receive a cash prize of $5.

Rules are: 1. contest begins May 9 and closes May 16: 2. winners will be announced May 30; 3. letter to be 150 words or less: 4. open to all scouts of the district: 5. decision of judges will be final and all letters will be the property of the finance campaign committee: 6. entries must be deposited in the container to be located at the Young Drug company Fifth street and Lawrence avenue: place the following information on the top of first page, name, address, age, parents name, troop, scout rank and sponsoring body.

Berean Class Plans Contest

ELLWOOD CITY, May 7.—A membership contest to conclude with the losers entertaining the winners at a corn roast was started at the quarterly meeting of the Berean class of the First U. P. church when the members gathered last evening at the church.

T. N. Patterson and Homer Pickel were named captains. Joseph Kaiser, new president, conducted the meeting.

Members welcomed back Edward Harbison, who spent the winter in the southland, and werep leased to know that his health is much improved.

Refreshments were served by a committee as the final feature.

Methodist Class Meets At Knox

ELLWOOD CITY, May 7.—Friendship Circle class members of the First Methodist church were hospitably welcomed for the May meeting last evening at the home of Mrs. Ernest Householder, of Knox.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Fannie Hartzell and Mrs. Effie Dunkle while Mrs. John Graham conducted the meeting.

After an enjoyable social hour, the hostess was aided in serving a refreshing lunch by Mrs. Dolly McCallister, Mrs. Pearl Smiley and Mrs. Hasel Elliott.

Monday, June 3, marks the date of the next meeting.

Lutheran Class Meets At Church

ELLWOOD CITY, May 7.—Last evening members of the King's Messengers class of the Trinity Lutheran church enjoyed a tureen dinner at the church dining room with twenty-six in attendance.

Plan Playground Work Of Summer

Commission Has Meeting On Monday Night To Consider Season

ELLWOOD CITY, May 7.—The Playground Commission met in the Board of Education rooms last night and the list of playground instructor applications were considered and discussed.

A lengthy discussion on the greatly needed equipment for each ground was held and definite action along this line is expected to be obtained the latter part of the week. Permits for the city tennis courts in Ewing Park are expected to be issued starting Friday. Work on painting the outlines of the court have been delayed due to the rain and cold weather.

Starting June 1, all school children 17 and under will only be allowed permits on the courts until 4 p. m. and none whatsoever on Saturday afternoon or Sundays. This action was taken so as to make the courts available for those adults who have to work in the daytime. Numbers will be placed on all four courts and new nets installed.

The city Softball League will open on Monday, May 20, and the American Legion Junior hardball league will open on Tuesday, May 21.

The five city play spots will be opened on Monday, June 3.

Million Dollars Worth Of Shells Dumped Into Ocean

(International News Service)

LEWES, Del., May 7.—Under supervision of three army officers, a crew of 16 picked men today was dumping $1,000,000 worth of obsolete ammunition into the Atlantic Ocean 20 miles off the Delaware capes.

Loaded on a 145-foot barge, the "floating arsenal" was picked up at Bridgeport, N. J., and towed down the Delaware river and out Delaware Bay with the utmost caution. The cargo ranged from 500-pound shells to rifle caps.

Each of the big shells is being dumped overboard separately into approximately 90 feet of water to prevent possible explosion.

Officials at the S. C. Loveland Co., Philadelphia, whose tug cyrine pulled the load down the river, explained the ammunition is old or damaged stock and that efforts to reconstruct it would be too dangerous

Margaret Foster Takes Play Role

Miss Margaret Foster graciously filled in the part of the Duchess Olga, at the matinee at the senior high school of "You Can't Take It With You" this afternoon, as the former "Duchess" Josephine Peluso was called away by the death of her grandmother. "Peggy," as she is known to her classmates, stepped in at the last minute and gave an excellent performance.

Peggy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Foster, 429 Winter avenue.

Among her many school activities she is an officer of the French club and Girl Reserve club, a member of the Girls' Athletic club. For several semesters she was a member, representing her class in the Student Council.

She portrayed the part of the flighty gym teacher, Miss Johnson, splendidly in the last play, "What a Life."

Red Sox Take League Lead

Defeat Cleveland Indians 8 To 5 With Jimmy Foxx Blasting His Sixth Homer

PIRATES LOSE OUT IN TWELFTH

By ED KIELY
International News Services Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 7—If the New York Yankees continue to fall apart if Bob Fellers fails to win 20 games if the Boston Red Sox keep up their heavy hitting—who knows but that Tom Yawkey may see his expensive dream of winning a pennant become a reality.

Over the past few years, Yawkey youthful millionaire Boston owner, has spared no expense in an attempt to collect a team to "stop the Yankees" Until this year, he has paid a high price for failure, but now fate is beginning to look more kindly.

Today Yawkey's Gold Sox rested in first place in the American league as a result of an 8 to 5 triumph over the second place Cleveland Indians. Jimmy Foxx paced the Sox bombardment with his sixth homer of the season.

Tigers Defeat Yanks

Elsewhere in the junior circuit the New York Yankees suffered another reversal at the hands of the Detroit Tigers. Big Hank Greenberg snapped out of a slump, to clout three hits, one a homer, as the Tigers won 6 to 4. The Philadelphia Athletics pushed the Chicago White Sox deeper into the cellar with a 3 to 2 triumph and the St. Louis Browns drubbed the Washington Senators, 11 to 9.

In the National league, the amazing Brooklyn Dodgers continued their incrediible pace of 11 wins in 12 starts, with a 6 to 2 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. Luke (hot potato) Hamlin's nine-hit twirling and Dolph Camilli's big bat featured the flat-bushers' second straight success over the ex-gas house gang.

The Cincinnati Reds continued to keep pace with their league-leading rivals by routing the New York Giants, 9 to 1. Paul Dean made his first appearance of the year for losers when he replaced losing pitcher Harry Gumbert in the late innings. Gene Thompson for the Reds.

Billy Herman's homer gave the Chicago Cubs a 5 to 4 decision over the Philadelphia Phillies and Boston whipped Pittsburgh 10 to 7, in a 12 inning struggle.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

In a triangular track meet at Donora, Donora high won 101½ points against 54⅔ for Trinity of Washington and six for Central Catholic of Pittsburgh. . . . Canonsburg won from Butler high at Pittsburgh, 83 to 50. . . . Crafton beat Mt. Lebanon 3-2; Beaver Falls won from Leetsdale, 5-0; Donora won from Charleroi, 4-1; Monongahela beat North Belle Vernon, 3-2; and Jeannette defeated Latrobe 4-1, in the race for the W.P.I.A.L. tennis title at Pittsburgh. . . . In golf, Geneva beat Carnegie Tech, 6 to 3, at Pittsburgh and Shady Side academy vanquished McKeesport 11½ to 3½ at Pittsburgh. . . . St. Vincent college beat West Liberty Teachers in baseball at Latrobe, 14-5.

Sports World Ramblings

Putting the sports spotlight here and there: With the 66th running of the Kentucky Derby already written in the colorful annals of the turf game lovers of the King of Sports look forward to the next spring classic—the Preakness stakes, Saturday at Pimlico. The coming event is almost a second derby, the difference being the setting, the legend and color that belongs to Kentucky.

Gallahadion, which beat the unbeatable Bimelech, has already turned his proud nose toward Maryland where he will likely face Big Bimmie, Dit, Pictor, Mioland and Royal Man. Despite the fact that the Preakness rates highly in the racing calandar, it doesn't and will never come cloee to touching the Kentucky Derby. There is only one Darby Day.....

After angling for an Henry Armstrong match for several years, Fritzie Zivic, Pittsburgh welter is as close as he will ever be, provided he trips Johnny Barbara tonight. Fritzie, one of four brothers who tried the pugilistic game, did something quite out of the ordinary back in 1935. He broke Lou Amber's jaw, according to Buck Marryat INS writer.

The early weeks of the baseball season have brought to light a number of oddities. The Athletics for one, are playing astounding ball Conny Mack's hurlers, two of them, have done fairly well against the strongest division of the American League, Johnny Babich has tucked in three victories in a row while "Chubby" Dean has spilled the Yanks twice. Nelson Potter is apt to be among the bigwigs this season...

Pittsburgh didn't succeed, but it tried. We've reference to the Buc's attempts to snatch Kirby Higbe or Hugh Mulcahy from the hopeless Phillies. Higbe ranks one, two, three in the N. L. as a pitcher. Doc Prothe shook his head when the Bucs reportedly offered Johnny Rizzo for either one of the crack peggeds. You really can't blame the ex-tooth jerker. Outfielders are a dime a dozen while twirlers are at a premium.

Odds and ends in baseball.... The Yankees have faced 10 southpaws in 13 clashes. Tis reported that Manager McCarthy has the supposed to be perfect team of baseball practicing against south paw pitching....Nate Andrews, ex-Columbus and St. Louis Cardinal twirler has been purchased by St. Paul....Earl Whitehill who has been around the major league for many years is with Minneapolis. He will not accept a red penny until he proves that he is in condition.....

SAUNDERS AND TAYLOR MEET MONDAY NIGHT

When Milt Taylor, of Cecil, and George Saunders of Youngstown, light-heavyweights milled here recently the fans were kept up on their toes throughout their three round clash which resulted in the battlers taking a severe battering before the last gong sounded. After Taylor was given the decision fans demanded the 175-pounders be remated and they are in training for their second 'go' in The Arena next Monday night.

Saunders was the first to score a knockdown. He rolled Milt for a count of nine in the opening session. In the second round Taylor flattened Saunders. At the count of five the bell came to Saunders relief. They fought like a pair of unfuriated wildcats in the third stanza and Milt got the award. Because of the fierce first fight fans already have begun paging the Jefferson Athletic club for choice seats.

Baxter To Fight

Benny Malone had to be taken off the card today but Julius Walt, a stablemate and who reputedly is better than Benny will box Mike Candella. G. G. featherweight champion of Youngstown. Mike got the award but it did not meet the approval of many fans. Nevertheless he demonstrated that he could give and take a punch and because the Cecil crew wants to see him beaten they shoved Walt in as his apponent.

The Monday night card will be good and the fans will get a chance to see Russell Baxter again. Since winning in The Arena, he scored a kayo at Niles and will oppose Al Dundee, a novice, who also is reportedly good despite his short time in the ring. Dundee is from Niles.

THREE IN THOUSAND ARE MENTALLY ILL

HARRISBURG.—There are approximately 300 mentally ill persons in mental hospitals in Pennsylvania to each 100,000 of population in the State.

Hospital population figures compiled by the State Department of Welfare show that at present 33,067 of Pennsylvania's 10,000,000 citizens are inmates in the State and County hospitals for mental diseases.

Although modern medical practice has served to check the advance of mental disease to the extent that 25 percent of all mental cases are now restored and returned to the communities, there has been a steady increase in hospitalization as the population of the State has grown.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

So you attended the annual St. Vitus spaghetti dinner . . . just how many plates of the spaghetti and meat balls did you eat? No doubt you ate but one and said to yourself in a low tone . . . that was fine but it sure is filling. While on the other hand quite a few did ask for a second plate . . . and no doubt if one looked close enough they might be able to see one who ate three plates . . . although that is a powerful lot of spaghetti . . . the amount that was used in serving such a dinner will be found in other columns of this newspaper. So until another year rolls around keep in shape for eating spaghetti by visiting the local spaghetti houses around town . . . and while we are thinking about that, why not take the little woman out for dinner some night this week . . . after all she is cleaning house and the change will do her good.

* * *

There is always something new around if one will just take the time too look down in the corners . . . but here is something that is new for New Castle but we didn't find it in a corner . . . no sir, it was standing right out in the middle of the room and the whole population will know it well by fall . . . It's the newly created City Softball Association and they are sponsoring an Amateur Vaudeville show this coming Friday night at the Ben Franklin High Auditorium. And you guessed it . . . the money received will be put in a fund to help maintain the various softball leagues here this summer. The boys need your support, so anything you can do to help them will be appreciated.

We think we are right in our belief that the State Highway department has control of East Washington street from downtown on out. If this is true, it seems that a little time could be spent repairing the holes that have been worn in it during the past few months. A car is almost torn apart going over this street . . . how about a little action highway bosses.

* * *

May we take this opportunity to give a few words for Mrs. H. A. Fazzone, chairlady for the spaghetti dinner last night. She wishes to thank her helpers which were . . . two supervisors, twenty-eight head ladies and the girls that carried the plates . . . "It was their complete cooperation that made the dinner the success it was," says Mrs. Fazzone . . . and might we add . . . "From Me To You" it was a wonderful job ladies and we really mean it.

Notice Of Sale Of Bonds Of The School District Of The Borough Of Wampum, In Lawrence County, Pennsylvania.

Sealed proposals will be received by the School District of the Borough of Wampum aforesaid for the purchase of bonds in the sum of twenty thousand ($20,000.00) dollars, said bonds to be in denominations of one thousand ($1,000.00) dollars each. The bonds will be dated July 1, 1940 and shall mature in the sum of $1,000.00 on the first day of July of each and every year from July 1, 1941 to July 1, 1960, inclusive.

Any or all of said bonds may be called for payment on or after July 1, 1950.

Said bonds will be issued free of state taxes, except gift, succession and/or inheritance tax.

Said bonds will be sold subject to the approval of the Department of Internal Affairs of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The interest on said bonds will be payable semi-annually on the first day of January and the first day of July each year beginning January 1, 1941

Bids are asked for said bonds under six conditions:

(1) 3% interest coupon; (2) 3¼% interest coupon; (3) 3½% interest coupon; (4) 3¾% interest coupon; (5) 4% interest coupon; (6) registered on any of the rates of interest above mentioned. Each bidder may bid under any or all of the above conditions, but must specify under which condition the bid or bids are made.

No bids will be received for less than par value and accrued interest. Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check payable to the School District of the Borough of Wampum in the sum of two hundred ($200.00) dollars to be forfeited to said School District to the extent said School District suffers loss by reason of the failure of the successful bidder to comply with his bid, if accepted. Any bidder bidding under more than one condition will be required to submit only one certified check for all such bids.

Sealed bids must be in the hands of the Secretary of the Board of Directors of said School District not later than Tuesday, May 28, 1940, at eight o'clock P. M. at which time said bids will be opened at a meeting of the Board of Directors of said School District to be held in the public school building of said School District.

Said School District reserves the right to reject any and/or all bids.

All bids must be mailed or delivered to W. H. Grinnen, Secretary, Wampum, Pa., and if mailed, delivery of the same on time will be at the bidder's risk.

W. H. GRINNEN,
Wampum, Pennsylvania,
Secretary.

Market Range Is Narrow Today

Market Continues Mixed And Colorless Affair Due To Foreign Situation

By LESLIE GOULD
(International News Service Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, May 7.—The stock market continued a mixed and colorless affair today, with most leaders holding within narrow limits from the opening. The undertone improved slightly toward midday, but many issues continued to lag.

Turnover again ran at a full-day rate of about a half-million shares, amounting in the initial hour to 120,000 shares.

It was a repetition of recent markets, with the foreign picture dominating. The side-lines continued heavily populated, and most dealings were of a professional nature.

The market again was dotted with several new lows for the year. International Nickel led in this department on a slide of almost a point. Spiegel, McKeesport and Pullman also hit new bottoms, while Air Reduction dropped a point to equal its 1940 low.

At the same time, Atlantic Refining continued its rise to a new peak on a gain of about a half-point. Other oil shares moved narrowly.

Steels displayed a firm tone, with Bethlehem up almost a point after slipping a fraction at the start. U. S. Steel did as well.

United Aircraft gained a point, but Douglas lost as much before meeting support. Most coppers, motors, and some of the rails were a shade higher. Electrical equipments and mail orders were mixed.

Legionnaires Look Forward To Big Banquet

Receive Word That Additional Guests Of Prominence Will Be Here

TICKET SALE TO END THIS EVENING

EDWARD J. LINSKY

Legionnaries of the 26th District are looking forward with great expectation to Thursday evening, when the annual national commander's banquet will take place in The Cathedral.

In addition to National Commander Raymond J. Kelly, Department Commanders Stirling of Pennsylvania and Gardner, of Ohio; National Committeeman Milo J. Warner, of Toledo, O.; department auxiliary president, Mrs. Velma Paul, of York, Pa.; word has been received by general chairman that many other distinguished guests of importance will be present for the occasion.

Included among these will be Dr. H. C. Whitman, Grand Chief de Gare, of the "Forty and Eight" the fun making organization of the Legion; and Department Adjutant Edward A. Linsky, of Philadelphia, who has been affiliated with the department headquarters of the American Legion since 1920.

In addition, there will be many other state and district officers in attendance.

The ticket sale will be closed this evening, and those who have not been contacted and wish tickets may procure them by calling 9068, the Legion Home, this evening.

Commanders of the Butler County and Beaver County posts, which with Lawrence County, comprises the 26th district, will be at the Legion Home this evening to report the ticket sales in their districts and according to indications, the biggest crowd which has attended an affair of this nature in many years will be here Thursday evening to greet National Commander Kelly and those accompanying him.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

The young wife, in a hospital, needed a blood transfusion.

Her husband gladly offered his blood for the operation.

He was healthy, had never been ill, and wanted to serve.

The doctors tested his blood to see if it was suitable.

Then they turned him down—as a blood donor for his wife.

The young husband was first mystified, then concerned.

He was afraid the doctors had found his blood was bad.

They reassured him—his blood did not match that of his wife.

There are four types of blood.

Unmatched blood may prove fatal if transfused.

Doctors know how to match types.

There is little danger, now, in a blood transfusion.

Dogwood Flowers Will Be Plentiful

From all indications, Owen Fox states, he expects an abundance of dogwood flowers this spring. Spots in the woods where these flowers are plentiful, reminds a person of newly fallen snow. Due to the fact that these flowers tempt people to pluck them, causing them to disappear from the woods, the state authorities have placed the trees on the protected list. Any person found with these flowers in his or her possession is liable to a heavy fine.

Strangely enough, when blooms are picked from a limb of dogwood, that limb will not produce flowers again, thus the necessity for protection.

Should a person examine the buds of the dogwood carefully, it will be found that it carries the figure of the cross.

COLLEGE STUDENTS ARE NOT TYPICAL

(International News Service)

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., May 7.—There is no such typical student as "Joe College' or "Betty Coed," says Pauline Locklin, assistant professor of English literature at the Pennsylvania State college.

"There is no more a student type," she asserted today, "than there is a student nose. No two students can be depended upon to think alike about anything. Students are all kinds of young people who happen to be attending college."

Miss Locklin objects to articles that claim to show what the college man drinks or wears. "He drinks what he is thirsty for and can pay for. It may be benedictine or buttermilk, but it is frequently lemon coke," she declared.

PENNSYLVANIA HAS BIG ROAD MILEAGE

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 7.—Pennsylvania can boast of approximately 10 per cent of all the improved highway mileage in the United States, in spite of the fact that it comprises only one and one-half per cent of the nations area, according to the state planning board.

If total road mileage is considered, Pennsylvania has more than Spain, China, Finland and Mexico combined. More than 40,000 miles of its roads are considered improved.
